

Monograms

This puzzle gives you a phrase describing (or relating to) some character in the Canon. The phrase's initials mimic the monogram for the character. So, for example, Dana Richards might yield the phrase "Devious riddler". (Clues are ordered.)

Married fiendish batterer

Gets beryls

Pierces cabin

Judges skin

Hat battered

Cooee man

Alert civil worker

Jealous boatman

Cruel avaricious menace

Jowled regaler

Primatologist?

Jaded, bent

American suitor?

Madness threat

Contagion sender

Silent murderer

Vivisected hand

Publican, Swiss

Jumpy (oranges!)

Vacation taker

Waylaid secretary

Wicked kidnapper

Hereditary baronet

Jilting wooer

Acid graven

Horrid "pastor"

Alias

Maiden beauty

Nabbed stone

Grieving sportsman

Ritual breaker

"Pollywog" pal

First hand marriage

Just heir made

Taught Horace

Gennaro's gangster

Endowed hairiness

Autographic co-writer

Personal therapist

Jealous asphyxiator

Worldy German sought vocalist,

operatic

Extorts Lady

Racehorse needed

Timorous sibling

Joint slicer

Had headline

Behind cyclist

Gypsy rapport

Hardware peddler?

Exile drugged

Rascal's father

Governess duped

Sluggin' dukes

Name game

Had students

Netted sympathetic coins

Built evidence

Ex-circus roomer

Despot justifies murder

Greeted mulatto